Making it easy for you to source what you need and meet your design specifications

With over two decades' experience, our team has unrivalled knowledge of the industry and the requirements of architects, designers, contractors and specifiers, alike.

Choose Caledonian Stone and benefit from:

- Extensive skills, experience, knowledge and an unrivalled product range capable of meeting any requirement
- Our ability to stock hundreds of different product types at any one time at our 4 acre stone yard, which is the largest of its type
- The fact we're not just a supplier, we're a specialist who's committed to ensuring our products are supplied to the highest standard
- Our consultative approach ensures you get the best results. Ranging from where cuts to flooring or wall tiles should be made, to product advice
- Unrivalled technical expertise. For certain projects, we can transform CAD files into detailed drawings that are drawn to scale and map exactly where each stone or tile needs to be positioned
- Excellent distribution networks across the UK and Europe. Our products are available in a variety of different packaging types including pallets, crates, polybags, bulk bags, wire crates and full loads

'Our customers value our personal service and extensive product range. However, it's our passion for helping create beautiful spaces that we're truly renowned for.'
